INTERLOCKING TILES

Interlocking Rubber Tiles are a great choice for recreational safety surfacing due to several key benefits they offer. Our 3rd generation solution is designed to minimize the common issues of past and some current tiles still on the market: expansion & contraction, buckling & curling, alignment slipping, and soft spots causing tiles to separate.

Here are some reasons why Tot Turf Interlocking Tiles are your best choice:

Structural Integrity: Raised and Unitary/Flush installation options include a high-density waterflow grid system with available ADA-accessible ramps, inside and outside corner tiles, perimeter edge pieces, filler sticks, and connectors to help prevent sagging.

Durability & Warranty: Rubber Tiles are durable and are ideal for high-use recreational areas. Purchase with confidence, knowing our products are made to last and are guaranteed by the best warranty in the industry.

Versatility: Tiles come in a variety of colors, thicknesses, and designs. Tile can be easily replaced or rearranged, if necessary. Available with two top layer options: Buffing Top with 7 Colors options or EPDM Top providing unlimited color blend options.

Easy Installation: Interlocking rubber tiles are designed to fit together seamlessly to prevent tile lifting. They have interlocking edges that allow for quick and straightforward installation. Our Tiles are equipped with an alignment peg, allowing for precision when installing and a locking mechanism runs the entire perimeter to provide a more secure installation.

Additional Key Benefits:

- Product meets all applicable ASTM standards and is IPEMA Certified to meet critical fall heights up to 10 feet.
